Columbia City Municipal Wells

On September 4, 1986 Phil Smith and I sampled three municipal wells in Columbia City, Indiana. These wells were sampled as part of a waste study to determine if contamination from Wayne Oil has effected the city water supply. The samples were brought to the Central Regional Laboratory (CRL) for a complete priority pollutant analysis.

The FIT will receive a copy of the data when it comes back, however no further work will be required under this TDD. Dan Caplice of the U.S. EPA will receive the results direct from the CRL.
